BEATEN BY TRAVIS

Palm Beach, Fla., February 6.—Good scoring marked the semifinal match played to-day in the Lakeworth golf tourney. Waiter J. Travis, of Garden City, and John Nathing, of Englewood, were the survivors, and they will meet to morrow in the eighteen-hole final. Travis scored a thirty-one for the first nine, and led his opponent, W. P. Wood, by five up at this point. As Travis sustained this lead, he eventually won out 5-4.

Football Schedule for A. & M. Calls for Seven Strenuous Gridiron Clashes.

West Raleigh, N. C., February 6 .-The following schedule has been given out by Graduate Manager Harrelson, of the A. & M. football team for the season of 1914: October 3-Wake Forest, at Raleigh.

October 10-Pending, with Maryville College. October 22-University of West Virginia, at Raleigh (Fair week). October 31-Navy, at Annapolis. November 7-Georgetown University.

November 7—Georgetown University, at Washington.
November 14—Virginia Polytechnic Institute, at Roaonke.
November 2—Washington and Lee, at Norfolk, Va. (Thanksgiving).
This is considered a very heavy schedule, and one of the biggest ever undertaken at A. & M. There are three games at home and four away, and the team will get trips to Annapolis, Washington, Roanoke and Norfolk. The last four games on the schedule will all be heavy games, and with representative teams.

Techs Victorious Again.
Blacksburg, Va., February 8.—In one of the prettiest games of basketball ever seen here, Virginia Polytechnic Institute defeated Guilford College by a score of 16 to 15. In the last few minutes of the game the score was a tie, but the Techs were able to gain the needed point just as the whistle blew. The teams play a second game here to-morrow.

TO MEET JACKETS

Hampden-Sidney, Va., February 5.—The Tirers are prepared for their set-to with the Ashland Yellow' Jackets to-morrow hight. All the men are in good condition, and will make the fight of their lives to come out on the big end of the scoring. Conch Berner has not decided upon his line-up, and it will not be known until a few minutes before the referee's whistle. Several of the men have been putting up a preity even light for positions.

Captain Carrington is a fixture as one of the forwards, while Sloan and Pendleton are rafely taking care of guards. Richmond and Bryan are fighting it out for centre, and Oilver, Orr and Reynolds are racing for the other forward. Lindsay and Thompson are also likely players. ther forward. Lindsay and Thompson are disc likely players.

Practice is held every night for about an our in the gymnasium. The team is great-y handicapped by the smallness of this soon and the obstruction of six large col-mus. Team work is rendered all. Hamp-en-Sidney will not accomptish much in this line of sport until she gets her new gyna-ium.

MAGNATES GATHER TO ADOPT NEW SCHEDULE

Virginia League Moguls Will Have All-Day Session, During Which All Manner of Speeches Are to Be Heard-Meeting Begins at Noon.

Be Heard—Meeting Begins at Noon.

Virginia League magnates will gather in the Richmond Hotel to-day at noon for the purpose of adopting a schedule for the approaching playing season. President J. O. Boatwright has submitted two tentative drafts from which a selection may be made. It is practically certain that many amendments and suggestions will be offered before the moguls finally agree. Those who are acquainted with previous schedule sessions of the league will recall the consumption of time necessary to reach an amicable agreement.

Every city in the circuit will be represented. The procedure will probabily be the same as in previous years, tresident Boatwright will announce the purpose of the meeting, and will formally present his two schedules. Then some one else will arise and present a nother schedule. There will doubtless be some four or five arrangements of playing dates presented. After hearing the hackneyed speech that Richmond is getting all Season.

Roanoke, Va., February 6.—As a result of the meeting of the stockholders of the reorganized Roanoke Basebahl Association, held here to-night. H. C. Elliott, who was unanimously elected president of the new organization, will be present at the scheduled meeting of the Virginia League to be held in Richmond to-morrow.

It was announced at to-night's meeting that $3.800 of the necessary $4,000 had been subscribed, and when the meeting was called to order more than affty of the stockholders of the new organization were prosent.

H. C. Elliott, who recently resigned the presidency of the old association, announced his position. He stated that he and Secretary Heins had agreed to transfer the franchise and all property of the association to the new organization for $1,200, the amount of last year's deficit. Mr. Elliott denied reports to the effect that he had not been made a proposition by prominent Lynchburg men for the transfer of the franchise to that city in event the Roanoke people did not take it over. At to-night's meeting Mr. Elliott and Elmore Heins were elected by the directors president and secretary, respectively, by a unanimous vote.

The directors elected at to-night's meeting were: H. C. Elliott, W. C. Stephenson, Henry M. Charg, A. C. Needles, J. H. Marsteller, S. W. Tompkins and A. J. Kennard:

The directors instructed President Elliott to go to Richmond to-night to attend to-morrow's meeting as the representative of the Roanoke association.

New York, February 6.—The football rules committee, which controls the playing code of the great college autumn sport, opened its annual meeting to-night at the Hotel Martinique. After several hours' deliberation, Chairman E. K. Hall, representing the solons, declared nothing would be rendy for publication before 2 o'clock to-morrow. The representatives, he said, were in serious debate, but the chairman would give no inkling as to the nature of suggestions or contemplated changes. Walter Camp, secretary and editor of the committee, refused to be interviewed.

Following are the representatives present to-night, who will reconvene in the morning:

E. K. Hall, Dartmouth (chairman); Walter Camp, Yale (secretary and treasurer); Dr. J. A. Babbit, Haverford; C. W. Savage, Oberlin; Dr. H. L. Williams, Minnesota; Clyde Williams, Pennsylvania; Percy Haughton, Harvard; Paul J. Dashield, Annapolis; D. L. Felton, West Point; Parke Davis, Princeton; Alonzo A. Stagg, Chicago; Captain J. E. W. Beacham, Corneli; Horace G. Pope, University of the South.

The Britan File Pathern Company of the Company of t sionally a tone of rare beauty emerged from the intricate phrases of the variations.

Four songs of an older school formed Mme. Alda's first number. In these she was somewhat disappointing; she had not "warmed up," or the house was still strange, or one of a dozen things, for she was not absolutely certain as to pitch, seeming to feel for the centre of the tone more than once, and, more than once, missing it.

And, in the exquisite Reichardt song, "When the Roses Bloom," she took a number of strange liberties, which we e meaningless to one who remembered Mr. Van Hoose's manner of breathing the words, and, besides, she fumbled the words. But throughout even these her voice came with remarkable case and clarity; of abundant range and with a luscious quality in its lower rogister, there was lacking in the voice itself only warmth.

And this was heard in full measure in many of her later songs—in all, indeed, in which it was required. In the prayer from Puccini's "Tosca." she sang with such dramatic fire and intensity that the audience was also fired, and she was compelled to respond to an encore. For this she gave the never-old Barcarolle from "The Tales of Hoffman," Mr. Casini playing the second voice part, as he had played an obligato to the prayer and to the preceding number, Cesar Franck's fine "Panis Angelicus." Beginning at this point and continuing to the end of the concert. Mme. Alda sang charmingly, appealingly and often very beautifully, so that the last song zame all too soon for the audience, which would not leave until she had sung again—this time Massonet's "Ouvre tes yeux bleus."

The Russian, Casini, opened the eyes and ears of most of the audience as to the possibilities that he in the 'cello, He played not only with an ovident thorough command of his instrument, a wonderful technic that enabled him

The Roanoke club has not signed a player-manager. It was reported several months ago that Joe Holland would pilot the Tigers, but it is said that he has or is about to sign with the Augusta team, in the South Atlantic League. The Roanoke fans are clated over the fact that the franchise is to remain here, and that they are not to be denied the privilege of enjoying the game this season.

To to toss off harmonics with the same ease with which he produced complete tones, but with the singing and frequently sobbing tone that can emanate only from a 'cello, and then only when it is played by a master. This young musician, discovered by Mr. La Forge and advanced by Mre. Sembrich, should go far toward the stars.

Mr. La Forge's composition was represented by four pieces on the program, all whinsleal and lovely, while he accompanied both Mme. Alda and Mr. Casini in the manner that few men in America can approach, all without a note of music, as is his custom. His solo playing was unfortunately rather, heavy, but he is literally a great accompanist.

"The Two Orphans" Next Week.
That Manager DeWitt Newing, of the Grayce Scott players, made a wise selection when he determined upon "Merely Mary Ann" as this week's attraction at the Grayce Scott Bijou, is attested by the increasing audlences that have witnessed and enjoyed the production. Miss Scott has proved altogether charming, and her supporting company has won new laurels. Next week the offering will be "The Two Orphans."

Company to Pay Depositors $20,000.

Alexandria, Va., February 6.—The proposition of seven of the directors of the defunct Virginia Safe Deposit and Trust Corporation, which institution closed its doors December 29, 1911, to pay to the receiver of the defunct con-cern a total of $20,000 in settlement in full of all claims that may be pending against them, will be accepted. There are twelve directors of the concern.

The answer of the majority of the depositors was filed in the Corporation Court this afternoon by Receiver Howard W. Smith. It is expected that it will shortly be ratified by Judge L. C. Barley, of that court.

This, therefore, means that the de positors of the defunct concern will receive an additional dividend of 7 or s per cent shortly. They have already received a total of 35 per cent. The total sum in deposit in the concern is $576,989.48, and out of this amount depositors representing $341,655.92 agree to the compromise. The total number of depositors is 3,678, and out of this number 1,913 agree to the compromise Against the compromise is a total o $75,380.92, and not voting, $159,952.64 The total majority for compromis is seventy-four, representing $53,161.33 The total number of depositors against it is 313, and 1,452 did not vote.
